If no, please give reasons -

Breeders must rely on the feedback they receive from puppy buyers as to the quality, temperament, and attributes of the dogs they breed. Without communication between breeder and buyer any problems that may occur go unchecked.

Ozziedust needs to know how our pups grow and mature, we need to know if they are adjusting to their new lives and surroundings – these things are particularly important to us.

No dog is perfect; we strive to improve our lines and better the breed with each litter. Your help is imperative to our cause.
